

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A method and apparatus are provided for exchanging transfer parameters in a mobile communication system. A terminal may transfer a PDP context request message to a network. The PDP context message may include an XID tag for determining a transfer parameter value. The network receives the PDP context request message from the terminal and transfers a PDP context accept message to the terminal as acceptance.